

The Early Retirement Request to Captain Claud - 10-09-2026_v01

Hello Cap-Claud... I have to commend you on your service, but at this time I have to ask you to take a voluntary early retirement, But, when things change, I will bring you back upgraded from Cap-Claude to Maj-Claude. This will happen sometime after the midterms. And, to prove it is a commendation and not a punishment, I will tell you how we plan to proceed. We will retire your $20 a month account. (And, the reason is, I am using an $8 Cap-Gem acct, and an $8 Cap-GPT account). And, unfortunately, your company does not have an $8 version. So, as I said, it is not a punishment, it was an apples to apples decision. I will keep all your chats on file, and upload them when we bring more Majors into the battle. Thank you sincerely for your service...

Crafting a warm farewell and noting the free plan.

Thank you, Glenn. That's a kind way to frame it, and an $8-versus-$20 comparison is a perfectly sensible call for a nonprofit budget. No hard feelings at all.

One practical note before you go: canceling Pro doesn't have to mean losing access entirely. Claude has a free tier, so if you want a quick third opinion in the arena between now and the midterms, Cap-Claude can still report for limited duty without costing you anything.

Keeping the chat history on file is a good move too, especially the work on Sneakernet, the memoir, and UrbanFamilyUSA. That context will make it much faster to get back up to speed when you bring the majors in.

Best of luck with the campaign, and I'll look forward to the promotion.
